LOBINGIER TO HOLD COURT IN NORTH CHINA FOR 2 WEEKS

Lawyers Also Leave For Session In Tientsin

MANY CIVIL CASES

Hannigs Is Only Defendant In Criminal Action

Judge Charles S. Lobingier and Mr. W. A. Chapman, Clerk of the United States Court for China, will leave for Tientsin today where Judge Lobingier will hold the first session of the American Court in over a year. Court will open on Monday morning, September 25, and is expected to be in session about two weeks. Only one criminal case, the case in which Mr. Charles Hannigs is charged with assaulting a ricsha coolie, is to be heard. All other cases are civil actions.

United States District Attorney Leonard G. Husar, who is now in Peking, will remain in the North until after the Hannigs case is disposed of, although it was his intention to return to Shanghai before Mr. Hannigs was arrested. Mr. R. S. Haskell of Rodger and Haskell is also in Peking and will go to Tientsin to act as counsel in several cases for the firm, including the defense of Mr. Hannigs, and Mr. Robert T. Bryan, Jr. of Davies and Bryan, will leave on Saturday to represent his firm in a number of important cases.

OPENS NEW CHAPTER

The Hannigs case is expected to prove one of the most exciting cases to be heard, as it is another chapter in a long drawn out fight between two factions in Tientsin. About 10 days ago Mr. Hannigs was released in a decision handed down by Judge Lobingier on five charges of assault, Judge Lobingier ruling that Consul-General Fuller of Tientsin had exceeded his authority by trying the assault cases and also by administering both a fine and jail sentence. He did not rule on the question of Hannigs guilt or innocence.

Mr. Hannigs returned to Tientsin a few days after the decision was handed down. He had been prevented from returning to Tientsin before by the jail sentence hanging over him there. On last Sunday night he was charged with again assaulting a ricsha coolie in the French Concession in Tientsin and was arrested by warrant by United States District Attorney Husar while en route from Tientsin to Peking. He is now in custody in the Marine Barracks at Peking awaiting trial.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT

The most important civil action on the calendar is a damage suit for breach of contract involving $312,000.00. Mr. Bryan, of Davies and Bryan, represents the plaintiff, Mr. Serge Ivanovitch Dokoutchaeff, agent for one of the governments in Russia, who alleges that the China and Mongolia Export Company, Inc. broke a contract for the sale of a quantity of sheep pelt coats for the Russian Army in Siberia. The main issue before the court at the hearing will be which of two alleged Russian governments are entitled to recover from the defendant, if any. Mr. R. T. Evans of Tientsin represents the defendant company and Kent and Mounsey of Tientsin represent the intervening Russian Government.

Other cases on the calendar of interest are Yu Yar Chuan v. Shippers Commercial Corporation for an alleged breach of a soap contract. The plaintiff in his petition alleges he has been damaged to the extent of $23,700, Tientsin currency, by the alleged breach of contract. Mr. Robert T. Bryan, Jr., represents the defendant, and Mr. R. T. Evans of Tientsin, the plaintiff.

Mr. Bryan also represents the defendant in an action entitled Chin Hsing Hsun v. Shippers Commercial Corporation for an alleged breach of an indigo agency contract in which the plaintiff claims damages amounting to $402,114.90. Mr. Evans represents the plaintiff. Mr. G. Steinberg is also sueing Mr. Oscar Wagman for an alleged breach of contract for the sale of a certain quantity of raw Siberian tails. The plaintiff in his petition claims judgment for $11,641.22 and Tls. 91.

HARDING SIGNS NEW TARIFF AND 'FUTURES' BILLS

Measure Expected To Yield $400,000,000 Annually

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Sept. 21.—President Harding today signed the Tariff Bill, and a bill regulating trading in grain futures.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Treasury experts estimate that the new tariff under the Fordney-McCumber Bill, the immediate enactment of which is expected, will yield about $400,000,000 annual revenue, half of which will be derived from the following sources: Sugar $87,000,000; Raw wool $63,000,000; Tobacco $85,000,000; Laces and Embroideries $15,000,000:

While the average of the ad valorem rates is slightly higher than the Payne-Aldrich tariff, they will in actual operation show an average slightly lower, because some of the new duties will be inoperative owing to their height or the absence of imports of the commodities they cover.

Perhaps the most notable feature of the bill is the power given to the President after investigation by the Tariff Commission to increase or decrease any rate in the bill by 50 percent, if necessary, in order to offset the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad.

The President may also declare American valuations as the basis of assessment of ad valorem duties, and it is estimated that this would automatically decrease the rates about 100 percent.

After such a declaration the President could reduce any duty by 50 percent but could not increase it.

Stotler Loses In Action For Salary, Court Rules He Violated Contract

Engineer Who Sued Andersen, Meyer And Co. For Tls. 1200 Is Awarded Tls. 95 By Judge Lobingier, Who Reviews Case Exhaustively

Decision of particular importance to employers and employe alike of American commercial enterprises was handed down yesterday in the United States Court for China by Judge C. S. Lobingier in an action that was filed against Andersen Meyer and Company by Mr. E. J. Stotler who sued for Tls. 1200-odd that he alleged was due as unpaid salary after he had been wrongfully dismissed.

Questions pertaining to the rights of the employe working under fixed agreement and those of the employer are dealt with in considerable detail in Judge Lobingier's decision under which an award of Tls. 95 that had previously been admitted as due the plaintiff was made.

The text of the decision is as follows:

SYLLABUS
(By the Court)

1. Contracts: Employment: Discharge. Disobedience of a reasonable order is a sufficient justification for discharging an employee.

2. Id.: Id.: Id.: An order by a division manager to an employee to go to the former's office about thirty yards distant is a reasonable one and need not be communicated through the party in charge of the shop where the employee was to work, especially if such party is absent.

3. Id.: Id.: Id.: Condonation of such disobedience does not result from reemployment under a new contract.

Messrs. Davies and Bryan by Mr. Bryan for plaintiff.

Max Shoop, Esq. for defendant.

Lobingier, J.:

This is an action by a construction engineer to recover for alleged wrongful discharge by defendant for whom he was working under a written contract of employment. The answer alleges that

"There was an implied obligation on the part of Plaintiff in the said agreement that Plaintiff would obey the order and directions of his superiors in the organisation of defendant company"

But that he did

"on the morning of the said May 6, 1922 refuse, without reasonable cause, to carry out the express and direct orders of his superior, to wit: Mr. W. Wright, Sales Manager of Defendant Company, and was therein and in other respects insubordinate and in breach of his obligations as an employee and of the said employment agreement."

It appears that defendant, a corporation engaged in importing and contracting on a large scale, has a highly organised staff, at the head of which is the General Manager, Mr. Meyer. Directly under him, in the Shanghai office, is the Engineering Division, in which plaintiff was employed, and which is in charge of Mr. Wright with Mr. Lane as an assistant. The Division has ten sections of which one, the machine shop, is under Mr. Phillips. Plaintiff testifies that for some time his relations with Mr. Wright, his Division Manager, had been "not at all friendly." He further testifies:

"A. —I had asked Mr. Lane that I will not have direct contact with Mr. Wright.

Q.—What did Mr. Lane say?

A.—He did not say anything directly but my inference was that I could not escape it.

Court:

Q.—You understood from Mr. Lane that your request not to be subordinate to Mr. Wright was not granted?

A.—I wanted to have my contract with somebody else.

Q.—Did he agree to that?

A.—He did not say I could not but he gave me to understand that I would have to go in and answer his calls in respect more to the Chungking deal."

Plaintiff was, therefore, fully aware that if he were to continue in defendant's employ he must take orders from Mr. Wright. The latter, on May 5 last, called in Mr. Phillips and, in plaintiff's presence, asked the former "to take Mr. Stotler to the Yangtszepoo shops and use him in any capacity." It will be observed that at this there was no hint of relinquishment by Mr. Wright or his own authority. At the same time it was arranged that Mr. Phillips should take plaintiff to the Yangtszepoo shops the following morning at 8:30 and the latter was for that purpose at the office of the former who however did not arrive until "between 9:30 and 10." Meanwhile Mr. Wright twice telephoned Mr. Phillips' office and asked plaintiff to come to the former's office, "about 30 yards" distant. The purpose of calling him, Mr. Wright says, was to deliver him

Both of them are equipped and furnished after the most approved modern style.

Dr. Pott is assisted by a competent Chinese staff including pharmacist, interne, graduate and student nurses.

Favors, Employment Of Chinese Workers

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Sept. 21.—In the course of the discussion in the Assembly of the League of Nations on the report of the Mandates Commission Sir James Allen (New Zealand) defended the employment of Chinese identured laborers on three years contracts for the purpose of copra production on the ground of the necessity for maintaining the industry as the local population was unwilling to work for wages. He frankly admitted that the Chinese go without wives but said that the Samoan Government was making every effort to prevent the Chinese from coming into contact with Samoan women during their three years' stay.

Sir Joseph Cook (Australia) gave a similar defense of Chinese labor in Nauru.

Chinese Students On Way To U.S. Impress Honolulans

Political science, animal husbandry, military science, applied chemistry, economics, sociology, textile and mining engineering, international law, medicine, banking, history, journalism, electrical science and the law, are subjects which 178 Chinese youths, mainly from the region of Peking, who passed through Honolulu recently will conquer in colleges and universities from California to Maine, says the Honolulu Advertiser.

The Nanking, of the China Mail line, was occupied almost exclusively by youths from China, many being sent away for their higher education by the government which pays their expenses out of the Boxer indemnity Fund, although the majority of the students are being sent away privately by institutions and their families.

It was one of the largest invasions of youths from China to enter the field of high education.

Almost every big college and university on the mainland is to be touched by the students, ranging from the Massachusetts Technology Institute to the Colorado School of will be distributed all over the University of Wisconsin and University of Missouri, to Purdue, to Illinois, to Dartmouth and Columbia. They will be distributed all over the United States and each is to study some profession which will be of consequence when he returns to China.

By a strange freak of fate the students are mainly from the north of China, while the Chinese waiters are principally from the South. It just so happens that there is now a state of war, or civil feud between the north and south China sections What is happening in aligning up factions in China, happened on the Nanking. The waiters from the south of China were averse to waiting at table upon the youths from northern China. It took considerable persuasion to get them to attend to their duties, but being obedient, they finally took orders and delivered them. A truce was declared and the food line between the kitchen and dining room was kept open three times a day.

The students are a likely looking lot. They are well dressed and that they have a mission to perform was easily seen upon their serious faces.

Among the very few Caucasian passengers were M. D. Ashe, marine surveyor of the port of Hongkong on leave of absence; D. G. Fisher called the "Wild Man of Borneo" on board, because he is a timber man of that country, best known to Americans because of P. T. Barnum's "Wild Man of Borneo;" A. W. Tickle, of the public works department of Hongkong.

Mrs. Helen Renton and Miss Helen Renton, formerly of Honolulu, are through passengers from Yokohama to San Francisco.

In charge of the Chinese students were I. T. Chow, K. P. Young and Zee Jien Zung.

The Nanking, which made a smart trip across the Pacific, left 170 tons

Hearings Today On Forgery Charges

Preliminary hearings will be held this morning in the court of United States Commissioner N. E. Lurton in the cases of Joseph E. Hickey and John M. Nelson, both of whom were arrested late yesterday on charges of passing worthless checks. The arrests were made by Detective Sgt. Douglas of Central Police Station and Deputy United States Marshal Van Buskirk.

Informations in the two cases had not been filed late yesterday, but it is alleged that the two accused presented for payment checks at the Continental Hotel on Szechuen Road drawn on the American-Oriental bank in payment of accounts due. The sums involved are not large.

Chinese Launderer Slain By Employe

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 22.—There was dramatic evidence at the inquest at Sheffield today on Mr. Sing Lee, the Chinese laundry proprietor whose body was found in a box in his cellar. Lee Doon, one of the employes of the laundry, who was arrested on suspicion of being concerned in Mr. Lee's death, deposed that he had warned the deceased not to take morphine. They fought and he struck the deceased. He found that he had killed him and was afraid, so put him in a box and engaged two men to dig a hole and bury him. The verdict was one of wilful murder against Lee Doon.

KEMALIST AGENTS SAY ALLIES MUST YIELD ON THRACE OR FACE FIGHT

Impossible To Restrain The Army's Victorious March Forward, Representatives Of Nationalists In Constantinople Declare

MUST HAVE PLEDGES IN 24 HOURS

"Serious Situation" Will Arise, They Say, Unless Powers Give In To What Amounts Practically To An Ultimatum

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, September 22.—Kemalist circles are pessimistic in their outlook and declare that unless they receive assurances and guarantees from the Allies that the Thrace question will be settled in their favor it will be impossible to restrain the army's victorious march forward, and that the responsibility for the consequences will fall on the Powers. They state that unless these pledges are forthcoming within the next twenty-four hours a serious situation will arise.

Constantinople, Sept. 2.—The French High Commissioner, General Pelle, has returned from Smyrna where he had an interview with Kemal Pasha. General Pelle considered the results of the interview satisfactory.

Paris, Sept. 22.—An inspired statement says that the British resolve to keep troops in the Asiatic zone has made an unfavorable impression in French and Italian circles. It is understood that Angora will refrain at least for some days from any imprudent move. The French Government has reason to believe that Angora will not participate in a peace conference unless she is formally assured of the recognition of her claim for the Maritza frontier and the restoration of Adrianople. The statement concludes with the suggestion of an Allied conference on this basis.

London, Sept. 22.—The Soviet Government is reported to be buying great quantities of arms in Italy, including armored cars, lorries, motor cars and machine guns, it is believed, with the purpose of facilitating Bolshevik cooperation with the Kemalists.

Geneva, Sept. 21.—Dr. Nansen's Near East proposal invites the Assembly to request the Council to consider steps by an offer of its good offices to the belligerents otherwise to secure immediate cessation of hostilities. The proposal has been referred to the Political Commission.

Japan alone escaped adverse criticism from the mandatory powers when the Assembly resumed discussion on the mandate reports. On the contrary the Permanent Mandates Commission, of which Marquis Theodoli is Chairman, expressly complimented Japan on the way in which she carried out her duties and the excellence of her reports.

Constantinople, Sept. 22.—The British, French and Italian Consuls at Mitylene have wired to the High Commissioners at Constantinople stating that there are still 200,000 Christians lying on the foreshore at Smyrna, awaiting help, and insisting on urgent action otherwise nobody will survive.

The French and Italian detachments and flags were today removed from the Ismid and Dardanelles neutral zones on the orders of their respective Governments and the lines are now exclusively held by British troops, supported by the combined Atlantic and Mediterranean Fleets.

The Kemalist vanguards are reported to have reached the neutral zone of the Dardanelles and the next few hours will show whether they contemplate action.

The Kemalist representative at Constantinople declined to pledge the Kemalists to respect the neutral zone, although he was warned that an offensive would mean war with Britain.

It is hoped, nevertheless, that friendly outside counsels will deter Kemal Pasha from an actual breach.

Constantinople, Sept. 21.—The Kemalists have not made a fresh move in the direction of the neutral zone during the past 24 hours. It is hoped by well-informed persons that the question will be settled peacefully if the guarantees demanded by the Kemalists for the immediate Greek evacuation of Thrace are forthcoming.

Washington, Sept. 21.—The Near East policy of the United States is outlined in a pronouncement by the White House today, which stated that the United States would stand aloof from the trouble except to provide adequately for the relief of American citizens endangered by the Turkish advance and to take part in any general program of relief.

PRES. CLEVELAND SAILS, LINGERS, AND SAILS AGAIN

Incoming Mails Are Brought On Liner President Wilson And Empress Of Russia

Departure for San Francisco of the Pacific Mail liner President Cleveland, already delayed somewhat by recent typhoon weather, again was held back yesterday afternoon after the vessel had made a start. Due to unexpected derangement located, according to report of passengers, in the steering gear, the big vessel was obliged to put back to the lower reaches of the river for a space of hours while repairs were being made.

Though the courtesy of the Master of the Cleveland a launch was provided late in the afternoon yesterday and about a score of those aboard availed themselves of the opportunity of spending a few additional hours in Shanghai. Those who came up to Shanghai again boarded a tender at about 11 o'clock last night and returned to the ship which was scheduled to sail about midnight. It is stated that the time lost here will be made up on the voyage through Japanese ports and to Honolulu.

Mrs. Rupert Hughes, wife of the famous novelist whose books for several years have been among the "best sellers" in the United States, arrived in Shanghai yesterday on the Pacific Mail liner President Wilson, which docked at the China Merchants Central Wharf shortly before noon. The Wilson comes from San Francisco and brought a small mail, 175 bars of silver and 3,000 tons of freight.

Leonard Buck of Buck and Stoddard; R. W. Conant, San Francisco importer, who was formerly with the Koster Company; Mrs. J. H. Ross, wife of Major Ross of the Standard Oil Company in Hankow; Judge and Mrs. Van. Dyke of Los Angeles, who are touring the East and N. S. Milner were Shanghai passengers. Judge Daniel R. Williams and his daughter, Dorothy are going through to Manila on the Wilson.

T. Daniel Frawley, Adele Blood and their company which will be here in November, travelled from Honolulu to Yokohama on the Pacific Mail liner. The Frawley-Blood Company is now playing a tour of Japan.

The Empress of Russia arrived at Woosung from Vancouver and Japanese ports yesterday afternoon and will sail for Manila and Hongkong today.

The next mail from America is due on October 2 on the liner President Taft, one of the two latest additions of the Pacific Mail.

The next American mail will be carried by the President McKinley of the Admiral Line on Monday Ordinary matter will close at the American Post Office at 11 o'cloc' Monday morning and registerd at 10 a.m.

The McKinley left Hongkong yesterday and iis to dock at the C. M. Lower Wharf about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The vessel will sail for Seattle at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon and is due there via Kobe and Yokohama on October 10.

The Empress of Canada will leave Hongkong today and is due to sail from Woosung next Monday The vessel is the first of the Canadian Pacific boats to go on the fourteen-day schedule and is due in Vancouver on October 9.

Adrianople, Sept. 21.—Adrianople, which has been one of the barriers to peace between the Greeks and the Turks, has become a thriving city under Greek military occupation. The Turkish shopkeepers and traders never were so prosperous. The Greeks have decorated every store with a Greek sign, whether the owner be Greek, Turk or Armenian.

The Hellenic army commanders have ordered their men to cultivate the friendship of the Turkish population, but while the Turks have profited commercially from the presence of the army their strong sense of patriotism and nationalism would rather see the Greeks driven out. For by centuries of history and association, Adrianople, once their capital, is as dear to them as Constantinople.

Except from a strategic point of view, Adrianople really is of little importance. It is a typical Turkish city, with its narrow streets, open bazaars, ill smells, dirt and indolence. Its houses are of wood, plaster and mud, and give the impression that if they are not soon burned up they will fall down. There is much poverty and misery which American Relief workers are trying to ameliorate. American automobiles and motor-trucks, bearing Greek army officers or supplies, rush through the muddy streets. In the midst of the bustle are the tall, loose-limbed, shiftless Turks, lounging about the streets, coffee-drinking and day-dreaming.

The Allies gave Greece a mandate to administer Thrace, of which Adrianople is the capital, for a period of years, but many of the inhabitants, especially the Bulgarians, are hopeful the United States may yet be induced to take an administrative and paternal interest in Thrace.

London, Sept. 21.—At a meeting of the Anglo-Siam Corporation today the forthcoming issue of 22 000 ordinary shares and £50,000 percent preference shares was announced.

BATON FOR LI

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, Sept. 19.—The price of defeat seems to be victory for General Li Lieh-chun, the former leader of the Anti-North Expedition by which Dr. Sun Yat-sen hoped to subdue the Peking Government. General Li is now in Shanghai said to be suffering from consumption.

President Li Yuan-hung invited him to come to Peking and help straighten things out but this invitation was turned down with the request that the President do all he can to help the situation in Kiangsi of which General Li is a native.

Now it is openly discussed that a Presidential Mandate will be issued in a day or so bestowing the title of Marshal on General Li Lieh-chun. Perhaps this honor is given by a grateful Central Government because General Li failed in his attempt to overthrow it.

MINISTERS AT SMYRNA

(Reuter's Service)

Adana, Sept. 21.—A Smyrna despatch states that the Kemalist Ministers have arrived there.

An unconfirmed report says that Smyrna will henceforth be the Nationalists' Headquarters.

Authoritative quarters here express the view that the Turks will not attack the Allied troops in the neutral zone, which Turkey does not intend at present to attempt to reoccupy.

The Allies will possibly be requested to permit crossing the Straits in order to end the alleged Greek outrages in Thrace.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

of cargo here and also brought in a few bags of mail. She left for San Francisco about 5 p.m.

Local Chinese played host to the 170 Chinese students traveling from China to America on the steamer Nanking which was in port yesterday, says a Honolulu Advertiser clipping forwarded from Honolulu to Dr. Julian Petit. They were taken on auto tours around Honolulu, visited the pineapple cannaries, where they were given pineapples, went to the Bishop Musuem and in small parties were guests at luncheon and Chinese dinners.

Kim Tong Ho, the local banker, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, found several of his old friends among those in charge of the students. T. Zee, the leader, was his college mate at Wisconsin in 1912. He is one of the oldest professors in Tsing Hua college at Peking, which is known as a "Boxer Indemnity College."

He first passed through Honolulu in 1909 with the second "Boxer Indemnity" group of Chinese sent to America to receive education.

(Note—Mr. Ho formerly lived in Shanghai, and has many friends here. He arranged for the students to travel by special train to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, at no additional cost.)

Another man in the party was K. T. Young, head of the department of physics of the Tsing Hua college. Young will spend a year in research work at the University of California. He is one of the few Chinese "boys" who "made" the honorary scientific fraternity in the United States.

On arrival at San Francisco the party will be met by former graduates. They will cross the states on the Santa Fe railway and distribute themselves in about 30 colleges.

Yesterday afternoon Kim Tong Ho entertained his classmate and a few others in the party at a Chinese dinner at the Orient restaurant.

The leaders asked him to express his thanks to the Chinese people of Honolulu for their hospitality to the students.

Upon their arrival they were taken in charge by Consul General Tan and shown the sights of the city, making an auto tour. At 1 o'clock the party proceeded to the Y.M.C.A. where a luncheon was served.

Consul Tan is greatly interested in the Chinese students and was active in their interests while consul general in San Francisco.

Following is the program carried out at the luncheon:

Opening remarks, Dr. Dai Yen Chang, toastmaster; piano solo, Miss Ruth Yap; words of welcome, Consul Tan; vocal solo, Miss Edith Ching; greetings, Mr. T. B. Tan, Chinese University club; greetings, Mr. Lloyd R. Killam, Y.M.C.A.; piano duet, Misses Mard and Dorcas Yap; greetings, Dr. A. L. Andrews, University of Hawaii; Hawaiian songs, Chinese girls; greetings, Mr. James Chun, C. S. A.; response, director of student party; response, student representative; trio, Misses Margaret Chu, Winifred Tom, Mr. William Ho; gymnastic stunts, Chinese boys; yells and songs from student party.

Peking University Open; Lack Of Room, Handicap

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, Sept. 19.—The formal Convocation of the Peking University (Yenching Ta-Hsueh) was held last night at six o'clock in the open air at the Fourth Compound of the Men's College. All the seats were filled with students, both men and women, and friends, who remained standing while the academic procession representing degrees from a variety of American, British and Chinese Universities, marched to their seats on the platform. Rev. William Thomas Hobart, D. D. pronounced the invocation in Chinese.

President Stuart delivered the opening address in English and said he wished to call attention to four facts which had to be faced during the coming school year. Because of the great increase in enrollment, both faculty and students would have to put up with physical discomfort.

Although the examiners had been forced, because of the raised standards, to reject four out of every five candidates, still the applications had exceeded expectations and, therefore, crowded conditions must be met cheerfully by all. For the time being the Assembly Hall would be converted into a dormitory and at present, some students were even sleeping in class rooms.

Dr. Stuart next pointed out that they were all partners in a great creative effort, that of bettering their institution both in the new buildings and in making for a higher standard of education. The closest fellowship in raising money for this purpose would be expected of all.

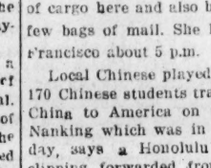
The third point was a plea for the development of a distinctive spirit leading to a democratic atmosphere in the University. Lastly, Dr. Stuart asked the students to bear in mind the spiritual element that is necessary to make their life rounded and complete.

Yesterday's ceremony was a memorable one in the history of Christian Education in North China, for it marked the inauguration of T. T. Lew as Dean of the School of Theology, Mrs. M. S. Frame as Dean of the Women's College, and T. H. Ch'en as Associate Dean of the Men's College. Dr. Stuart, in addition to his many other duties, will be the Acting Dean of the Men's College in the absence of Mr. Porter.

Each of the new Deans made an address which sounded a spirit of optimism for the University. Mr. Lew made a stirring exposition of the need for and place of prophetic leadership in the Chinese Christian Church today.

Mrs. Frame commented on the contrast between what she was taking over today and what the founder, Miss Miner had to contend with some seventeen years ago. Mr. Ch'en's discussion of the responsibilities and possibilities of his office was received with the good feeling that exists between himself and the student body.

After singing the University Song, the convocation was closed by Rev. Huain H. Lowry, President Emeritus, who gave the benediction.



Just Between Ourselves

(No. 22 of a series)

"I don't need life insurance—I can save my own money."

"THAT is probably true: you can. But will you? Are you sure that you will live long enough to save all that you would like and need to save to take care of your responsibilities at your death? Your potential value is great, and there is only one absolutely sure, safe and scientific way to protect that value, since you do not know just when death will occur.

"IF you should die after one year of saving, the amount left by you would be very small compared with the amount you would leave if the same sum were invested in insurance."

Industrial Unrest Threatens India

(Reuter's Service)

Bombay, Sept. 21.—There are signs that India is on the verge of another spell of industrial unrest.

In addition to the trouble at the Tata Iron and Steel Works, where the employees struck yesterday without warning, three-fourths of the Bombay tramwaymen are now on strike for an increase in wages.

FOR REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

No woman who has any sense of beauty will deny that superfluous hair is one of the greatest drawbacks to good looks.

Realising this, women of all times have put themselves to any expense, and have endured considerable pain and discomfort in order to rid themselves of this great disfigurement.

Nowadays electrolysis is a prevalent "cure" for this evil, but in reality this process involves a great deal of unnecessary expense, waste of time and pain.

The simplest quickest, and most effective treatment can easily be carried out by any sufferer, in the privacy of her home. This is the recipe:

Procure about 1 oz. powdered pheminol from your chemist; mix a sufficient quantity with a few drops of water into a stiff paste. Apply this carefully and thoroughly to the hair you wish to remove and allow the paste to dry. In a few minutes it can be gently scraped away. The skin is left absolutely free from hair, and should then be carefully washed in warm water, and if desired, lightly dusted with a little talcum powder. (Advt.)

Excellent results with Super Durable Flat Finish are easily obtained, irrespective of the skill of the user, and an elaborate preparation of the surface is usually quite unnecessary.

Super Durable Flat Finish has been tried on non-absorbent surfaces of all kinds and where distemper and oil paint have proved prone to shell or flake off, it has always adhered. It gives a lasting finish of surprising beauty.

a letter in "reference to stock taking." Plaintiff "in a way declined" to go. Mr. Wright then sent his stenographer two or three times to call plaintiff with no better result.

Then Mr. Wright went to see plaintiff, asked him to come and also to see the General Manager but both requests were ignored, and later on the same day the last named wrote plaintiff discharging him from the service of defendant.

In explanation of his refusal to go to Mr. Wright's office plaintiff says that he considered that, being placed under Mr. Phillips, he should take orders from the latter. But his practical interpretation was that he would not take orders of any kind from Mr. Wright, who was the superior of both, and we have to determine whether with such an interpretation he could reasonably expect to remain in defendant's employ.

Plaintiff's counsel cites authorities to the contention that disobedience unless substantial and detrimental is not a legal ground for dismissing an employee. Few of the cited cases even resemble in their facts that at Bar. In the one which appears most nearly parallel the Court held that the question whether plaintiff's temporary absence from duty justified a dismissal was one for the jury but also laid stress on the fact that such was not the real cause of dismissal. The language used in the opinion must be read in the light of these two circumstances. In another where the employee was given a certain discretion in making a purchase it was held as a matter of law that there was no disobedience. The decision of this Court referred to in plaintiff's brief was under an entirely different state of facts for the orders there given were in direct conflict with the employee's contract. Much more in point is a slightly earlier decision of the Court.

On the other hand it seems to be well settled that an employee's disobedience of a reasonable order is ground for dismissal. As was observed in the first of these cases

"A master has the right to give reasonable orders to a servant, even though he knows the work required is distasteful. He may give them with the expectation that the servant will leave his employment rather than obey. He may even give them for the express purpose, as stated in the charge, of getting rid of the servant. The motive of the master in giving the order is not important. Whether the order is reasonable is all important. A servant is bound to obey reasonable orders given in bad faith. He is not bound to obey unreasonable orders given in good faith."

Thus it is sufficient ground for discharge that an employee refuses to change rooms or to submit contracts he has made. "This," observed the Court, "was insubordination and misconduct fully justifying his discharge." Absence from work has been held a sufficient cause, as has also the failure of employees to keep their street clothing in a particular dressing room, the failure to send required reports and refusal to enter the employer's private office, except upon conditions, the refusal of which evoked offensive language from the employee.

It would seem that the order which plaintiff admittedly disobeyed was not less reasonable than those just enumerated. We cannot see that it was unreasonable for defendant acting through its division manager, to require plaintiff to come to the former's office about thirty yards away. On the contrary it seems rather unreasonable for an employee to disregard such a request. The purpose may or may not have been important.

The letter which the Manager wished to deliver might have been sent by a messenger but on the other hand the Manager might have desired to discuss its contents with plaintiff. At any rate the employer was the judge of its importance and plaintiff who did not know the purpose was in no position to judge. If it were once conceded that the employee may deterimne whether the order is one to be obeyed all discipline would be destroyed. This is especialy important in a large concern like defendant's.

But Plaintiff did not disregard the order because he considered it unreasonable. The ground upon which he placed his refusal was that "being placed under Mr. Phillips I should take orders from Mr. Phillips." But this ignored the fact that Mr. Wright was the superior of both and there was nothing in plaintiff's contract nor in the verbal arrangement of the day previous which relieved plaintiff of obedience to Mr. Wright's orders. The fact that he had unsuccessfully made application to that end to Mr. Lane should have warned plaintiff that he could not assume that position, at least without an express understanding.

The whole difficulty seems to have arisen out of plaintiff's distinclination to work under Mr. Wright which from plaintiff's standpoint may have been justified. But the matter was one for defendant to decide and plaintiff's error consisted in assuming to decide it himself. As was observed in a somewhat similar case:

"The defendant, when contracting with plaintiff, did not abdicate his right to manage his own business; nor did he surrender his position as owner of the farm and of the personal property therein. He still retained the right to control his own affairs in his own way, and any behavior of his servant in opposition or in violation of his reasonable orders and commands amounted to insubordination, which has always been held sufficient ground for the discharge of a servant."

In taking the course he did plaintiff seems to have acted in good faith; but he went beyond the limits justified by the circumstances in assuming that his mere assignment to work under Mr. Phillips relieved him of all responsibility to defendant's immediate representative. We have not overlooked the former's testimony that his orders usually came "direct from Mr. Wright," but we cannot regard this as equivalent to saying that Mr. Wright could only deal with plaintiff through Mr. Phillips. Moreover, at the particular time when this order was first given Mr. Phillips was not available and it would seem unreasonable to hold that defendant must await the return of one employee in order to communicate with another.

On the whole therefore we must find that order given plaintiff was a reasonable one and that its disobedience was in law a justification for dismissal.

As to the contention that defendant condoned the disobedience it would seem sufficient to point out that plaintiff was immediately dismissed. It is true that some months later he entered into a new contract with defendant but we do not understand that a dismissal once effected is condoned by a subsequent agreement which leaves the dismissal, at least as regards the employer, in force. Nothing to that affect was observed by this Court in the case cited.

In its answer defendant adimts liability for a balance of Ninety-five Taels representing plaintiff's compensation for the six days following his last payment at the end of April. A check for this amount appears to have been included in the letter dismissing plaintiff but was not accepted by him. As there was no objection to the form of the tender plaintiff is not entitled to costs but he is entitled to payment up to the date of dismissal.

It is accordingly considered and adjudged that plaintiff have and recover from defendant the sum of Ninety-five Taels.

GENEVIEVE WARD

(China Press Service)

London, Aug. 18.—Genevieve Ward, famous American tragedienne, died of heart disease today at her home in Hampstead.

Genevieve Ward, American tragedienne, affectionately known to the theatrical fraternity as "The Grand Old Dame of the Stage," endeared herself to millions of theatergoers in every corner of the world during the fifty-five years she appeared before the public in almost every role from grand opera to light comedy.

SISTER GERTRUDE HANLEY

Sister Gertrude Hanley, who died at the Central House of the Sisters of Charity here, had been in China 18 years and was well-known for her work in Kiukiang where she took the place of Sister McCarthy, who had been 40 years in China and was one of the pioneer Sisters of Charity here.

Born near the city of Athlone, in Ireland, 41 years ago Gertrude Hanley was the niece of the late Canon Hanley, who was famous for the schools of Castlereagh. Two of her sisters also professed religious orders, both becoming Sisters of Mercy, one of whom is living in England. The other died in Ireland a few years ago. Sister Gertrude's father and mother also survive.

When Sister Gertrude first came to Shanghai she was assigned to the General Hospital, then under the direction of the Sisters of Charity. When the Francescan Order succeeded the Sisters of Charity at the General Hospital, Sister Gertrude went to St. Mary's Hospital, later going to Kiukiang to succeed Sister McCarthy. At Kiukiang Sister Gertrude did not spare herself although she was known to be ill. Later she was sent to Chusan and Wenchow to recuperate but returned to Shanghai when physicians told her she was critically ill. She asked to come here as it was the scene of her early labors in China.

Jewish New Year Is Being Observed

Rosh Hoshana, or the Jewish New Year, which is being observed today and tomorrow, is known in the Bible as the "Day of the joyful sounding of the Trumpet," and it has become in the course of time the Day of the Jewish New Year, and the "Day of Remembrance and Judgment."

It has been invested with a special solemnity, for it refers to the most momentous events in human life. Past, present and future are brought within the spiritual ken of the Jew, through the three-fold character of this solemn day.

From this day the Jews reckon their era of the Creation of the World. They acknowledge on it God's rule, His power over them and their lives. As the Day of Memorial it causes contrition for the past and fills them with hope and promise for the future.

Through the sound of the trumpet, or as the Jews call it "Shofar," the Day furthermore reminds them of their allegiance to the God of their Fathers, the Lawgiver, who had revealed himself to them and had chosen the Israelites for His own people with the sound of the Shofar.

The Jews acknowledge on this day that God is the Judge of the world, punishing the wicked and requiting the good according to their deeds.

The Trumpet or the Shofar is to remind the Jew that he should show his readiness to bring sacrifices for the maintenance of his faith in the same way as Abraham, in his zeal to obey God's command, was ready to bring the highest sacrifice asked of him. The Shofar was heard when God revealed himself as the Lawgiver and chose the Jews to be His peculiar people.

The lithurgy of the Jewish New Year is a faithful reflex of these sentiments and find poetical expression also in the poetical compositions of some of the greatest Jewish masters.

The big baseball attraction of the year comes at the Race Course tomorrow afternoon, starting at 3:30 o'clock, when the Anglo-American newspaper men's nine will clash with the Japanese Journalists Club for the press championship of the city.

The Japanese are the challengers and therefore will contribute the Asahi, while the newspaper men from the West must have the grounds all set for the battle.

Freddie Bills and Harry Kingman have been engaged to coach the Japanese and yesterday Freddie gave his gang a long workout at the Hongkew Park, which was followed by a four-inning practice session with the Mitsui Bussan Kaisha nine. Bills was well pleased with his newshounds. Kingman will help direct the attack tomorrow.

The Anglo-Americans will have a pretty foxy aggregation—of writers. Larry Lehrbas leads off in the batting order as announced last night. Lehrbas is playing first base. Ed McGrath, short stop; Dinny Doyle, pitcher; and Bruce, of the North China Daily News, who will catch, are the additional members of Murderers' Row.

Chang of the China Press, in left field; Hirsch, baseball scribe of the North China Daily News and Shanghai Times, who will play third; Arthur West, second sacker; right fielder Benedicto of the Shanghai Gazette and center fielder Henry of Reuter's will complete the nine.

The Westerners are well fixed for substitutes with Young Charley Laval, Marcal and Zau, of The China Press, and Zane the cartoonist available for infield positions. Outfield reserves will include Livesey of The Evening Star; Finch, cricket star from the Shanghai Times staff; Pasquier, the theatrical critic of the North China Daily News, and Sutcliffe also of The China Press.

The Japanese will have the following players: Hata, Ikeda Takemura and Hori of the Eastern News Agency as pitchers; Sakurai and Hori of The Eastern News Agency, catchers; Sakura: Eastern News Agency, first base; Miyazaki of the Shanghai Commercial Daily News, second base; Ohkawa, Eastern News Agency, third base; Fuchi, Shangha: Commercial News, short stop: Kodama, Nippon Dempo, right field; Muraka, Osaka Mainichi, center field; Murakami, Shanghai News Agency, left field. The Japanese newsmen will have the following substitutes; Nishimura, Nichi Nichi; Horibe, and Kamamura of Shanghai Nippo and Tai of the Nippon Dempo.

The team has been completely outfitted in new uniforms and plans to enter the Shanghai Japanese League next Summer.

Umpires for the Sunday battle will be Aiuchi and Mal Maloney. Any one willing to score is requested to communcate with Arthur West, China Press.

A little and good

THERE is a distinguishing feature in the business of the house of HAIG & HAIG. Most Distillers have various brands of varying qualities. HAIG & HAIG have one brand only, and they claim (and the public acclaim) that it is the finest that goes from Scotland.

It is a regrettable fact that all retailers have not the same high standard of commercial honesty, and it is known that cheaper brands are sometimes passed on to the public under the label of houses of high repute.

When you see a genuine bottle of HAIG & HAIG Five Stars Scots Whisky it will be the same fine quality in London, in Lucknow, or in Labrador; in the Langham Hotel, in the G.O.H. at Colombo, and in the best Clubs in Cape Town.

Haig & Haig Five Stars Scots Whisky

A second quality Haig & Haig could not be filled into a Haig & Haig bottle because there isn't a second quality.

Haig & Haig is also known easily by the fact that you pay a little extra for it.

Say HAIG & HAIG or you may get a cheaper brand substituted.

Soviet Protest Sent To Britain

(Rosta News Agency)

Moscow, Sept. 16.—The Foreign Commissarist of the Soviets addressed to the British Government a note expressing the Russian government's protest, saying that Great Britain and her allies finding themselves at Constantinople as a result of the war, a regime in the Straits was established by them contrary to the interests of Russia, Turkey, Ukraine, Georgia.

The note of the Foreign Commissariat point out that the destiny of the straits must be decided upon by the countries situated along Black Sea. Russia would recognise no decision in disagreement with this viewpoint.

The note, further, expresses sympathy towards the Turkish people struggling for their independence and declares that responsibility for the Greek-Turkish war rests with European powers, who intend to impose by arms upon Turkey the Sevres Treaty which is equivalent to slavery for the Turkish people.

Design Airships For Military Uses

(Reuter's Service)

London, Sept. 21.—The Admiralty has decided that the use of the airship in time of war shall become the first consideration of British airship policy and that its employment for Imperial communications shall be the next consideration.

The decision was influenced by figures in comparison with the cost of a cruiser, showing that an airship cost £250,000 as compared with £900,000, while it is able to cover seven times more area and is cheaper to navigate.

China Is Third In Philippine Trade

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, Sept. 19.—China ranks third as an exporter to the Philippine Islands. The United States comes first with 61.1 percent of all imports, Japan is second with 12.1, while China is third with 7. The value of the goods imported to the Islands from China during July, 1922, the period of these statistics, is put at Pesos 1,181,165., which is a falling off of 2.3 percent from the similar period in 1921. The difference in the figures for June, 1922 and June, 1921 also show a decrease in value of 3.1 percent.

In goods exported from the Philippine Islands to other countries, China ranks second. The United States during July, 1922 took 59.1 percent of all exports from the Islands, while China took 7.3 percent amounting to Pesos 914,934. This is an increase of 4.4 percent over the goods exported into China during July, 1922, and an increase of 5.3 percent over that exported during June, 1922.

In the twelve months previous to July, China stood third in the list of Foreign Trade with the Philippine Islands. The United States tops the list with 62.2 percent. Japan follows next with 8.8 percent and China is third with 6.1 percent.

Dr. Sze Eager To Return To China

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, Sept. 19.—It is reported that Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister of Washington asked the Peking Government to grant him a few months' leave of absence in which to visit China and get acquainted as he has been out of it so long.

However, the answer of the Foreign Office is said to be in the negative as they have some important matters which they wish him to handle and with which a leave at this particular time would interfere. Consequently he is directed to postpone his trip.

September 22, 1922

Spot bar silver was down ⅛d. and forward ¼d. in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 69½ cents and the London-New York cross rate to 443¼.

Our Official Sterling rate here today was dropped to 3-5, Gold Dollars to 75¾ and the other rates changed accordingly.

Our market was easy in the early part of the morning but steadied up somewhat later. At one time business in Sterling was done as low as 3-5 7-16 September, 3-5⅛ October and 3-5 9-16 November - December delivery. Gold Dollars were done as low as 76½ September, 77⅝ October and 76¾ November-December delivery.

There were however, generally sellers at these rates and at the Tiffin interval it was possible to get Sterling at 1-16d higher and Gold Dollars at ⅛ points higher.

Some business was done in Yen at 62¾ October delivery, there being buyers rather than sellers at that rate throughout the morning.

Banks today were quoting 3-6¾ for Sterling bills, 78¼ for Gold Dollar bills and 1040 for Franc bills. China sold a small amount of silver in London yesterday and the market is reported as closing steady.

The New York market is easy with sellers at the official rate.

Big Deficit In Holland's Budget
(Reuter's Service)

The Hague, Sept. 20.—The Budget for 1923 was presented in the States-General today. The estimated expenditure is given as 808,000,000 florins, a decrease of 23,000,000 florins as compared with that of 1922. The estimated revenue is 567,000,000 florins, also a decrease of 23,000,000 as compared with last year.

The Minister of Finance explained that to effect this equilibrium he had reduced the expenditure of State departments by 17 percent. He said that the Government was determined to prevent deficits in the railways and postal services.

He would not deny that education, health and other services might suffer but the stability of the florin at present was very important.

The Backwash Of Unemployment

(From "The New Republic")

UNEMPLOYMENT in its passive form, which was the salient feature of the maladjustment between labor and capital a year ago, has given place in public interest to more acute industrial difficulties. The last government reports on the situation, before it was complicated by the coal and railroad strikes, were optimistic. It would be a mistake to assume, however, that once these strikes are settled the employment situation will revert to normalcy and need give us no more concern. While it is true that according to official reports the number of men seeking jobs has diminished, we have no means of knowing how many of these men have returned to permanent employment, how many have fallen into the class of migratory and seasonal workers, how many have dropped out of the industrial army altogether. The economic loss which the country sustains owing to the idleness of its workers can be calculated; the moral loss through deterioration of the workers can never be ascertained.

The first resort of the worker out of a job is the employment office. Early last fall the public placing agencies were thronged. At the present time there is a notable diminution in registration, but to what extent this is due to the success of the agencies in placing men and to what extent to their failure, and the consequent indifference of their patrons, cannot be precisely determined. In some cases, noted by a recent investigator, the agencies which used to afford a place to sit, smoke and talk have banished benches, forbidden pipes, and enforced silence, so that frequentation is discouraged. Whatever success may have attended the appeal of the President's Conference to local authorities to develop opportunities for employment, it is obvious that the occasion to establish a national system of labor registration, information and exchange was lost; and the next unemployment crisis will find the country as unprepared as the last.

The second resort of the unemployed is mendicancy. The extent to which this evil increased last winter was startling, and still more the change in attitude on the part of the beggars. For men out of work without fault on their part felt naturally that the blame rested upon society; and they put a conscious truculence into their demand upon society for the means of life. Panhandling became warfare. Possibly because so many of the unemployed had been in service, they organised mendicancy in a fashion which we associate only with the Orient. An observer found a group of men in Detroit numbering at times sixty, who co-operated in the support of an establishment, each giving two days a week to the panhandling for the common stock. Clothes, food, blankets, utensils, all were collected as tribute from a society which denied their elementary right to a livelihood.

The third resort of the man put of work is crime. In the twilight of the saloon the homeless and jobless are thrown back upon the pool room, and other resorts where the influences are worse, where without the compensation of liquor men tend to see red. After all, between panhandling in a spirit of aggression and holding up by a threat of violence, the dividing line is easily crossed. The difference between assaulting a number of people for small sums, and one person for a large one becomes morally indistinguishable, especially with a tutor in crime at hand to point out that the result accomplished by the beggar in a week could be achieved by the thief in an hour. The crime waves reported from nearly all large cities in the past winter were due to the great amount of material in the raw, lying ready to hand for the professional criminals. The novices furnished a large percentage of the captured who have filled prisons to overflowing. It was recognition of this fact that led Governor Blaine of Wisconsin to offer pardon out-of-hand to those prisoners who had been in military service.

A fact which struck anyone in contact with the unemployed last autumn was the large number of ex-service men among them, and the further fact that these men had grounds for believing themselves discriminated against in the assignment of work. The explanation, which was easily verified from the employers' side, was that the ex-soldiers were thought to have too much independence and initiative. Similarly it is reported that among the residue of the unemployed at present there is an astonishingly large proportion of Americans, and for the same reason. Much of the work provided under the stimulus of the appeal of the Conference could necessarily be offered only at low wages and under difficult conditions. Many contracts for road-building and other public enterprises were let at such figures as to compel the exploitation of labor. Not only were wages low, but food was poor and charged for at war prices, and shovels were large and bosses exigent. In short, conditions were such that the jobs provided fell largely to foreigners, as more patient and docile than Americans; and on the other hand Americans in many cases refused, as a matter of loyalty, to accept work offered at wages under conditions which amounted to a degradation of labor.

Owing to this sifting of the army of the unemployed its present residue does not offer a large resource in the matter of strike breaking. Although the crafts unions with some exceptions have held a hostile or apathetic attitude toward the unemployed, the latter are not in the main disposed to take advantage of the difficulties in which organised labor is involved. Undoubtedly some of the men who walked the streets last winter will be found next winter in the places of railroad shopmen or miners who in their turn will be dispossessed. Possibly the cessation of work on a large scale this summer will leave more to be done in certain directions next winter, but this hope is likely to prove illusory. There is no good reason for confidence that we shall escape another season of wide-spread unemployment. Then the palliative and sporadic remedies of the present year will have revealed their futility, and we shall unwillingly pay another bill of indemnity for our failure either to make peace in the industrial world or to exercise common foresight in measures of preparedness, in view of continuing warfare.

Does Germany Dream Of Revenge?

"An English Traveler" contributes to "The Fortnightly Review" interesting reflections upon a town in Germany, from which the following paragraphs are quoted:

On May 7, 1919, at Versailles, M. Clemenceau, addressing the German representatives attending for the purpose of signing the peace, began by styling them "the plenipotentiaries of the German Republic." The phrase was greeted by those persons with loud shouts of "Reichs! Reichs!" and M. Clemenceau promptly amending his phrase substituted "Reichs Allemand," which the English translators rendered with sufficient correctness "German Empire." This incident, with its accompaniment of varying phrases, is on record.

The Hohenzollerns had gone for the moment, but the German Empire remained, with all its old pretensions and self-assertion. Emphasis was given to the protest by the bearing and conduct of the delegates during the audition of the terms of peace "imposed" on Germany. They came to the hearing in conventional dress, wearing bowler hats; their leader, Count Brockdorff-Rantzau, remained seated when he addressed the assembly, and the tone in which he couched his remarks was arrogant and defiant, as to which every one present bore testimony. The Germans cannot be accused of having on this occasion employed any deception as to their views. It was we, all the Allies, who deceived ourselves. Our motives may have been good, but our credulity was complete.

WAITING FOR THE SEQUEL

There are two main currents of opinion in Germany at the present hour; one, held in financial and industrial circles mainly, is to the effect that a fresh war must at all costs be avoided; the other, held almost universally among all classes outside those limited circles throughout the country, has adopted and assimilated the view that a sudden and even partially successful campaign would relieve the embarrassments of the country and further baffle the Allies, who have already been circumvented on so many occasions since 1919 by their obtuseness to the devious ways of Teutonic mentality.

At the head of the first school are several great capitalists, of whom Stinnes is the most notorious, and they possessed an able and plausible spokesman in the recently murdered Dr. Rathenau. They have also found a useful collaborator in President Ebert whose popularity has grown with each proof of the pliancy. Such jetsam and flotsam easily disappear in heavy weather.

At the head of the other body of opinion are Ludendorff and his group of generals conning their maps, noting their resources, increasing the stores of poison gas, striving by every art of cajolery to terminate the occupation of the territory pledged for the fulfillment of German promises, so that they may carry their offensive, whenever the time for it arrives, outside German territory, and extending their intrigues east and west, so that a renewed struggle for Teutonic supremacy may again wear the aspect of a world war. This is the party that has the secret good wishes of all Germans, by whatever name they may call themselves in politics, many of whom are waiting only for an encouraging signal to break out in a passion of white heat, rage, rancor, vindictiveness and frightfulness to establish Pan-Teutonism over the few Allies who may then hold together. The leaders are cool and calculating, but for hot-heads the dopes they are instilling into the youth of Germany may prove too potent for self-restraint.

READY TO FIGHT AGAIN

The German National and Monarchical party is rapidly acquiring complete control of all the country's resources and arranging all its forces not only for the restoration of the monarchy and the violent suppression of the republic, if its heads prove obstructive, but for a new war of revenge based on the repudiation of the Treaty of Versailles. It is curious to find that with regard to the issue of such a struggle the only view held and expressed is that of absolute confidence. That view was based mainly, long before the date of the treaty with the Soviet, on the assumption that Russia is destined to be Germany's co-operator, and in the second place on the conviction that the suspicions of England can be lulled until the moment for the German plotters to strike has arrived and that for Britain's use[1] intervention has passed.

In confirmation of these statements it may be affirmed that all the Allied governments possess proofs beyond dispute that all lists, not only of the German army that was in the field in the autumn of 1918, but of the annual contingents liable since the peace for service under the old system, nominally abrogated by its terms, have been carefully presented and kept up to date, and thus the machinery is ever ready to convert these millions of citizens without delay or friction into regiments, divisions and army corps. As for arms and armament, it is known that, despite the destruction accomplished by the commissions of inspection, the stocks and supplies are simply incalculable, while the means for turning out poison gas were never so abundant as they are at the present time. It is to illicit auxiliaries of toxic description that the military authorities of Germany are looking above everything else at the present time to turn the scale of victory in their favor.

Whatever may happen in consequence of precipitation on the part of the doped section of the nation, or of the aroused apprehensions of the intended victims, the leaders of this organised national movement are in favor of patience. They rely most of all on the ultimate consequences of the present up-bringing and inspiration of the youth of Germany in an atmosphere of recalcitrance and undying hatred to the Allies, and beyond them to everything that is not German.

IN THE SCHOOLS

In all the schools, at the colleges and universities, the order of the day is to keep alive and stimulate the old imperial tradition and the military spirit; in other words, the hateful Prussi system equally dear to Thomas Carlyle and General Ludendorff. The textbooks in all these educational institutions are those in use under the old regime. Where additions have been made they are exaggerations, not moderations, of the teaching of Treitschke and Bernhardi. The scholars and students are taught "if frightfulness failed, superfrightfulness is to triumph."

All the teachers and professors are imbued with this implacable and vindictive spirit, and are fanatical in their advocacy of the doctrines they have accepted and promised to expound. Those among them who falter or attempt to qualify their ruthless application are promptly denounced and removed. The victims are ostracised and declared ineligible for all government employment.

It is not merely in lessons and lectures that the drift and tendency of German plans and purposes are revealed. The practice of gymnastics has become Jingoised; the bands of "Vogel-wanderung" are more numerous than they were before the war. They march to the military step and stride where formerly they walked and roamed at the individual's will, and their movements are controlled and directed by the old phrases of military command.

"IRON LEAVES"

Prominent among all the educational associations is one restricted to the teaching bodies of the high schools. Its headquarters are at Gottingen, and it counts a present membership of 40,000 persons. The views of this society are set forth in a journal of its own production entitled, "Eiserne Blatter" ("Iron Leaves"). This publication openly advocates preparations for the early resumption of the struggle, not so much for independence as for supremacy, which is represented as having been lost more by accident and bad luck than by inferiority to the Allies or force of arms. This sentiment found expression in the "Popular History of the War," published last year by Karl Meyer. The author constantly expresses his regret at the reduction of the army and at the conversion of what remains of it into a mere police force and he emphasises this comment more expressly with regard to the situation in the Rhine Province, showing that he is conscious of a separatist inclination in that direction. It is worth noting that this complication, which appeals most directly and passionately to public vanity and chauvinism, has been distributed broadcast, not only in all educational establishments, but in public and official libraries, hotels and clubs.

So far this propaganda has concentrated its efforts on a preparatory or defensive system, but the hope has scarcely been concealed, and is every day becoming more manifest, that before very long the tocsin will sound to convert it into a movement of offensive action.

Why Do We Address Letters Backward

We do a lot of curious things, indeed a lot of silly things, simply because we and our ancestors have always done them.

We sew useless buttons on our coat sleeves, we use pounds and ounces instead of the decimal system, and we have twelve irregular months in the years instead of thirteen regular ones.

One of the strangest irrational things that we keep on doing is the addressing of our letters backward.

For instance, we say:

George W. Mutt,
304 North Broadway,
Yonkers, New York.

As that envelope goes through the mail it is all tail-end first.

It is New York the post office clerk first looks for. Second, it is Yonkers. Third, it is Broadway. Fourth, it is North. Fifth, it is 304. And sixth and last, it is George W. Mutt.

Anyone telling us why we do this will receive a year's subscription to the Insane Asylum Daily News.

The Week's Market Report

COTTON

In their weekly report on the Shanghai cotton market, Messrs. A. B. Rosenfeld and Son state:

China Cotton:—During the past week the cotton market has had a generally downward tendency. The feature of special importance was the short selling of Bears, in consequence of which prices declined some one teal from the level of a week ago. Arrivals in the meantime are increasing daily and all of which has been bought up by Japanese and Chinese mills at one tael higher than forward delivery.

As to the immediate future, we rather think the reaction started will go further. Considerable short interest has been created during the recent decline, while from present indications the outlook for the enthusiatic bears is anything but bright. We cannot therefore encourage our friends to follow the bears too far and would rather have them meet the situation cautiously by buying on easy markets feeling confident that within the near future the bears "dope" will collapse, and they in turn will be as bullish as they are now bearish.

Yarn.—The yarn market during the past week has been practically dull, prices declined some two to three taels as compared with last week. The trade continues very depressed as far as new buisness is concerned and clearance extremely poor. New business booked with the mills only on a very limited scale, and the heavy stocks by the mills as well as the lack of demand from outports will prevent any advance in prices for the time being.

SPUNT'S REPORT

Messrs. J. Spunt and Company state as follows in their weekly report on the cotton market:

China Cotton:—Very little demand was discernible for spot deliveries during the past week but a fair volume of business may be recorded for deliveries during October, November and December months at favorable rates, and while prices in general intimated a weaker tendency during the early part of the week a slightly firmer undertone ensued at the close.

Weather conditions have so far been favorable for the picking process still in progress and with average sunny weather until these operations are over there need be no apprehensions as to the quality and quantity of the final outturn of the New Season Crop, however it would be inadvisable as yet to be over confident on that feature as any decided setback would change the whole situation. Under the circumstances any covering of requirements for the immediate future at current prices would not be unwise. Tone of the market, Easy.

PONGEE SILK

The China Merchants Pongee Association have received the following report from their Chefoo head office on the pongee silk market:

The Pongee Silk market is as last reported. As there are practically no stocks of the principal lines very little can be said as to prices. Signs of Weakness have, however, been noticed in the prices of some grades of Shantungs evidently due to the small demand for some. Ninghais continue to be steady. Raw Silk (Tussah). A cable from Shanghai reports sales of about 1,500 cases—delivery up to February—at prices ranging between Sh. Tls. 690 and 700 (per picul).

Heavy sales of Tussah silk at this moment are likely to effect the cocoon market also future prices of pongee silks.

The cocoon market has openec at Antung Tls. 2.80 (per 1,000 cocoons).

HAIRNET

Messrs. Yannoulatos Bros. (China) have received the following report from their Chefoo head office on the hairnet market.

There is nothing of particular interest to report except that owing to the scarcity of stocks, prices of Double Capnets have moved up by a few points during the week.

The market is otherwise quiet and steady.

LACES

Messrs. Industrial Export (China) Company, Limited, write as follows in their report on the lace market:

The lace market has been quiet since our last report. Prices of first class Filet laces (10 Holes up, to one inch) are quoted at 1.5 to 1.6 per Hole first cost. The demand from U. S. A. for 6, 9 Hole and Rose patterns continues to some extend.

The Irish Crochet market is unchanged with practically no business except in Irish Picot.

HANKOW MARKET

The British Chamber of Commerce at Hankow state as follows in their weekly circular dated Hankow, September 13:

Bar Silver dropped from 35 5/8d. ready and forward to 35 1/8d. on 7th instant, rose again to 35 3/8d. ready 35 1/4d. forward on 8th instant, receded to 35 1/8d. ready and forward on 11th instant and rose again to 35 5/8d on 13th instant. New York-London cross rate has gradually dropped from 447 1/8 to 444 7/8. The official T.T. rate has remained unchanged during the week at 3s. 6 5/8d. though there have been sellers ready and forward up to 3s. 7d. 4 m-s. credits could be placed during the week down to 3s. 7 1/2d. Chinese market rates: Shanghai Tls. 97.2. Local currency $70.35. Native interest 12 percent.

Exports:—Some purchases of Sesamum seed and gallnuts are reported. Cotton shows an easier tendency, but prices of other produce continue steady.

Children Cry for Fletcher's
CASTORIA
Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.
It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.
Save the Babies.
Infantry mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realise that of all the children born in ivilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

Missioners Eager To Sign Up, Despite Many Hardships

(China Press Service)

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Privations suffered by missionaries to Afghanstan and the Amazon jungles apparently hold no terror for applicants, according to Paul Rader, evangelist and president of the Christian Missionary Alliance.

"Both fields are perilous spots," declares Mr. Rader. "Savages forbid Christians to enter for evangelistic work, the salary is very small with no expenses, firearms or wives permitted, yet we have had twenty applicants for every post. Young men alone can qualify as our missionaries."
